TALK OF THE TOWN

Lids for Kids at Abbott's. See Abbott's silk hose at 50c. Howe's moving pictures to-night, opera house—adv.

Wanted—An order and delivery clerk. Eastman Bros.

Miss Vera Beckwith was a business visitor in the city from Chelsea Saturday.

It was a quiet week end at police headquarters, with no intoxication entries on the blotter.

Regular meeting of St. Monica's ladies' aid society will be held at the convent Tuesday evening at 7:30.

W. C. Clifford of Bethel, manager of the Woodbury Granite Co., was a Barre visitor through the week end.

Mrs. George F. Nichols of Woodsville, N. H., arrived in the city last evening to spend a few days visiting friends on North Main street.

Misses Ruth Humphrey and Flossie Doyle, teachers in Northfield Falls, were week-end visitors at the home of Miss Humphrey's parents on Elmora street.

There will be a regular meeting of Minnehaha camp, No. 2, Tuesday evening at 7:30. Work, royal purple degree. All patriots requested to be present.

Frank Beard and John Benjamin, who have been making an auto trip through southern Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island during the past week, returned yesterday to their homes.

The body of Dr. R. M. Minard was removed from the tomb at Elmwood cemetery yesterday and taken to West Topsham for burial in the family lot. The trip was made by an East Barre auto hearse.

Miss Anna Fontana, who has been employed at the Divers Fruit Co. store during the past year, has completed her duties there and commenced work this morning as a clerk at the A. P. Abbott store.

There will be a demonstration of orchard pruning by the county agricultural agent at the farm of William Brown in Berlin on Wednesday, May 9, at 1:30 p. m. Pruning our apple trees will give us more and better fruit.

Mrs. Charles Rusconi, who has been a patient at the Fanny Allen hospital in Winoski during the past month since submitting to an operation, has so far recovered her health as to be removed to her home on High Holborn street.

There will be a sewing meeting of the Red Cross at their headquarters in the high school building Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All interested in the work are invited to attend. Additional sewing machines will be there for use at this meeting.

Among the recent weddings recorded at city hall is that of Miss Rose Robinson and Patrick J. Ryan, both of Barre, who were married April 16 by Rev. J. B. Reardon. On April 24 Miss Rose Ida Pruneau and Henry M. Rich were married by Rev. P. M. McKenna.

Lloyd McCarthy, who has been employed at the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., in New Haven, Conn., during the past two years, arrived in the city this morning to make a stay of a few weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McCarthy, of South Main street.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the men's club of the First Presbyterian church will hold another of its monthly series of meetings. Rev. Lewis C. Carson, Ph. D., pastor of the Unitarian church in Montpelier, will speak on "Crime and Punishment; Modern Methods of Prison Control." A luncheon will be served after the speechmaking. The last meeting of the season is to be held early in June.

A farm deal was recently consummated through the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency, whereby the farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Stone on the Richardson road, consisting of the buildings and one acre of land was sold to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davis of Plainfield. Mr. and Mrs. Stone will move at once to their property known as the Little farm near Graniteville, which they purchased through the Perry agency last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who recently sold their Plainfield property to E. H. Slayton of Hardwick, will take immediate possession of the Richardson road property.

In an informal way the city council at an ad hoc committee of the whole assembly, broached street paving and franchises Saturday afternoon, although official, if any is to be taken, was deferred until this evening, when the council holds its fortnightly meeting. Some of the features drafted into a tentative franchise by a joint committee of Barre and Montpelier city officials Thursday night were described by members of the Barre delegation. Opinions as to the advisability of paving South Main street and bridging the jail continue to vary widely and the council is not exactly at one in the proposal to grant concessions to the traction company, but progress is reported and something besides words may be in order to-night.

Authoritative figures received from government officials in Canada were read at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, when the pastor, Rev. Edgar Crossland, was heard in another of his wartime sermons, the subject being, "The Sinking of the Lusitania and Its Significance." Replying to an inquiry made in contemplation of a sermon on "Canada, Our Ally," given a week ago, a Canadian in authority advised the clergyman that 8,651 Americans had enlisted in Canadian overseas contingents prior to Feb. 28, a number somewhat smaller than the 25,000 which had been credited to the United States. This aggregate, the pastor said, did not take account of the men who had gone directly to England or France to serve with the allies. It was also noted that 18,000 Canadians served with the North during our Civil war. Much mention was made of the cold-blooded atrocity of the Lusitania, and the sermon, as rendered, seemed to breathe a hope that the loss of American lives may be avenged.

William Young left the city to-day for Lake Sunapee, N. H., where he plans to pass the summer.

Mrs. Isabella Gibson and two children of Highland avenue have gone to Jackson, Mich., to reside.

Mrs. Henry C. Batschelder of Plainfield arrived in the city this morning for a visit of a few days with friends.

Regular meeting of lumpers, boxers and derickmen in Foresters' hall Tuesday evening at 7:30. Nomination of officers. Per order secretary.

Miss Olive Culef passed through the city Saturday while on her way to Washington, where she will spend a few days vacation from her school work at Bakersfield.

Selectman Frank Mills was a Barre business visitor to-day, being accompanied here by his daughter, a student at Goddard seminary, who spent the week end at her home in Orange.

Louis K. Hoar, who has been employed by the International Paper company at Ticonderoga, N. Y., during the past two months, arrived in the city Saturday to spend a few weeks at the home of his parents on East street.

Harold Poor of East Brookfield arrived in the city to-day to commence work as the tester for the Barre-Berlin Milk Testers' association which recently organized. Mr. Poor will work for the association during the next three months.

Edgar J. Bolton of Taunton, Mass., arrived in the city last night to take charge of the remains of his brother, Henry Bolton, whose death in March removed a long-time employee of the Central Vermont railroad in Barre. At the time of his brother's death Mr. Bolton could not be located and he finally received tidings of the man's demise when a copy of The Times fell into his hands by chance. The body has been in the receiving vault at Elmwood cemetery and this afternoon it was taken to Montpelier for interment in Green Mount cemetery. Mr. Bolton, a former resident of Montpelier, took charge of the deceased's personal effects. Before returning to Massachusetts he will visit relatives in Montpelier and Northfield.
